The Town's previous DAIP 2017 – 2022 has expired and has been renamed to the Access and Inclusion 2022 – 2027 (AIP), in line with industry trends and community engagement.

Introduction

The introduction section describes what disability, access and inclusion means and why an Access and Inclusion Plan is important.

Progress Since 2017

A detailed review of the previous DAIP was undertaken and this section provides highlights across the then seven key outcome areas.

Development Approach

This outlines the methodology and the four stages used to develop the Access and Inclusion Plan – discover, define, develop and deliver.

Strategic Context

This section provides a summary of the international, national, state and local context that underpins the AIP.

Population Profile

The population profile provides the Town's estimated 2021 and 2031 population and people with disability and the number of people providing unpaid care.

Guiding Principles

This section outlines the six principles that have guided the development of the AIP and the implementation plan.

Many of the Town's functions have a direct impact on people living with disability, their carers and others who experience access and inclusion challenges, these are outlined in this section.

Community and Stakeholder Engagement

This occurred from March to June 2022 and this section provides a summary of key findings, from which the five key goals for the AIP have been developed.

Action Plan

The action plan explains each goal, outcomes, deliverables, resources and outlines lead/partners and the year that actions will be undertaken across 2022 – 2027.

Theory of Change

This section explains the Theory of Change Model that will be used to help evaluate the social value delivered by the action plan.

Implementation, Monitoring and Evaluation

This section outlines how the AIP will be implemented, reported on and the method for evaluating progress.

Introduction

The Disability Services Act 1993, amended 2004 (the Act) requires all local governments to develop and implement a Disability Access Inclusion Plan (DAIP) every five years.

In recent years, there has been a trend toward renaming DAIPs to Access Inclusion Plans (AIPs). This reflects that access and inclusion is about the inclusion of all abilities, and encompasses support for families, seniors, people living with mental health needs, LGBTQIA+ and people with English as a second language.

Community members living with disability, their families and carers have the same rights as other people to access services, facilities and programs. These rights are protected within international, national and state legislation, making it unlawful to discriminate against a person living with disability.

The Access and Inclusion Plan for 2022 – 2027 ensures the community's access and inclusion needs are supported and implemented through the Town's Strategic Community Plan (SPC) and subsequent action plans, including the Town's Place Plans.

In developing this plan, the Town has addressed the state mandated outcome areas. These are:

Outcome 1 – Services and Events

People with disability have the same opportunities as other people to access the services and any events organised by local government.

Outcome 2 – Buildings and Facilities – Buildings and Facilities

People with disability have the same opportunities as other people to access the buildings and other facilities provided by local government.

Outcome 3 - Information

People with disability receive information from local government in a format that will enable them to access the information as readily as other people in the community.

Outcome 4 – Quality Customer Services

People with disability receive the same level and quality of customer service from local government as other people in the community.

Outcome 5 - Complaints

People with disability have the same opportunities as other people in the community to raise issues and concerns to local government.

Outcome 6 – Public Consultation

People with disability have the same opportunities as other people in the community to participate in local government public consultation and engagement projects.

Outcome 7 - Employment

People with disability have the same opportunities as other people to obtain and maintain employment in local government.

What does Disability, Access and Inclusion mean?

Disability

A disability is any continuing condition that restricts everyday activities and can affect a person's capacity to function independently, to communicate, interact with others or learn.

The degree and type of disability varies with individual circumstances and can be:

- Sensory - affecting vision and/or hearing.
- Neurological - affecting a person's ability to control their movements, for example, cerebral palsy.
- Physical - affecting mobility and/or a person's ability to use their upper or lower body.
- Intellectual - affecting a person's judgement, ability to learn and communicate.
- Cognitive - affecting a person's thought processes, personality and memory resulting, for example, from an injury to the brain.
- Psychiatric - affecting a person's emotions, thought processes and behaviour, for example, schizophrenia or manic depression.

According to the most recent data available from the Department for Communities (2017), the following disability ratios have been identified within Western Australia:

- Physical disability (73%).
- Intellectual/psychiatric (17%).
- Sensory (10%).

People may also have more than one disability and therefore face additional disadvantages. COVID-19 has also restricted access to some community services, facilities and programs, impacting on the mental health of people living with disability and the wider community.

People from diverse cultural and linguistic backgrounds can also experience disadvantage and challenges within the community.

Access

Access refers to the ability of all people, including people living with disability and their carers, to move around the built and natural environment. This includes buildings, recreation and leisure facilities, parks, footpaths, community services, events, shops and other services.

This also includes access to information, and the opportunity to participate in the Town's community engagement and employment opportunities.

Inclusion

Inclusion means actively including and encouraging everyone with all abilities; including people with diverse abilities, cultural backgrounds, ages and genders to participate in all aspects of community life and opportunities.

Why Have an Access and Inclusion Plan?

There are many groups in the community who experience accessibility and inclusion challenges, and the following are reflected in this plan:

- People living with disability and their carers
- Elderly people
- Parents with infants, young children and prams
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
- People with mental health issues
- People with physical impairments, injuries and disabilities
- People from diverse cultural backgrounds
- People with English as a second language
- People with temporary injuries

The AIP is used by the Town of Victoria Park to:

- Define priorities, and short and long-term goals and actions
- Prioritise budget and resource allocations

- Focus the shape of the Town in terms of land use, infrastructure, service and asset management, operations and planning
- Inform workforce planning
- Inform other key strategies and plans such as the Local Planning Strategy
- Inform the Town's position on issues
- Provide context for staff reports to Council, communications and events
- Collect and evaluate performance measures

Community and Stakeholder Engagement

Community engagement commenced in March 2022, to inform development of this plan.

Given the uncertainty of COVID-19 impacts and restrictions at the time, the Town of Victoria Park developed a variety of flexible community engagement activities, aimed at maximising face to face engagement and pop-up opportunities, where possible.

Phase One

The first phase of engagement occurred from March to June 2022. The purpose of this phase was to seek feedback on the perceived importance and level of satisfaction of the Town's progress against the current DAIP and its seven key Outcome Areas.

This phase gathered community ideas and suggestions for the Town to lead and facilitate over the next five years. This was promoted widely throughout the community, and feedback was gathered through the following engagement tools:

- Community survey (online and paper copy)
- Online ideas board
- Children's survey and drawings
- "Tell your story" activity
- Internal staff workshop
- Access and Advisory Group workshop
- Targeted engagement with disability service providers and community groups
- Elected member feedback

Phase Two

Phase two of community and stakeholder engagement will occur after endorsement by Council to undertake a public comment period on the draft AIP 2022 -2027.

Key Findings – What Did We Learn?

The big insights gained from phase one of the community and stakeholder engagement include:

- Overall, 79% of survey responses indicated the level of access and inclusion for people living with disability in the Town was 'very good' or 'reasonable'.
- Physical access is the most recurring theme for improvement, featuring in more than 400 ideas.
- School aged children would like the Town to focus on making recreational community spaces and buildings more physically accessible.
- More smaller scale events which celebrate and consider access and inclusion needs.
- Increased employment opportunities for people living with disability, specifically in local businesses, and in frontline leadership positions in Local Government.
- Desire for the Town to lead and support cultural change, by raising awareness and education particularly for more empathetic and non-judgmental work environments across the local area.
- Through a ranking process, the community told us Outcome Areas 7 (Employment), 3 (Access to Information) and 2 (Access to Town Buildings and Facilities) are the highest priorities for action at this time.

Five key goals have been identified for the Access and Inclusion Plan 2022 – 2027, based on the findings of the community and stakeholder engagement, which are reflected in the action plan:

- Goal 1 – Customer Experience
- Goal 2 – Physical Access
- Goal 3 – Active Citizenship
- Goal 4 – Employment
- Goal 5 - Governance and Impact

Theory of Change - Overview

What is a Theory of Change?

A Theory of Change (TOC) is a tool used by organisational program managers and evaluators to describe how a program is expected to work. It is a framework that visually shows how the opportunity or problem a program is expected to address, within a particular situation, and the assumptions underpinning the development of the program.

A TOC also identifies the expected pathway between various elements of a program and expected social outcomes for the stakeholders involved with the program.

With a TOC, the elements of a program are the planned activities developed by an organisation to bring about expected social outcomes.

What are social outcomes?

Social outcomes are the changes in the knowledge, skills, awareness, behaviour, level of functioning or status, experienced by stakeholders, resulting from their involvement with the planned activities. Stakeholders within the context of a TOC are those people or organisations that experience this change.

Demonstrating social impact

As a tool describing how a program is expected to work, a TOC can also show the connection between planned activities and social outcomes applicable to each stakeholder group, over the immediate, medium, and long-term. A long-term social outcome is often described as a social impact. Impact is considered as the expected fundamental change, occurring in a community, as the result of a program being delivered over at least five years.

The TOC for this plan is depicted as five Inclusion Initiatives, which capture the deliverables identified throughout this plan.

Key Stakeholders

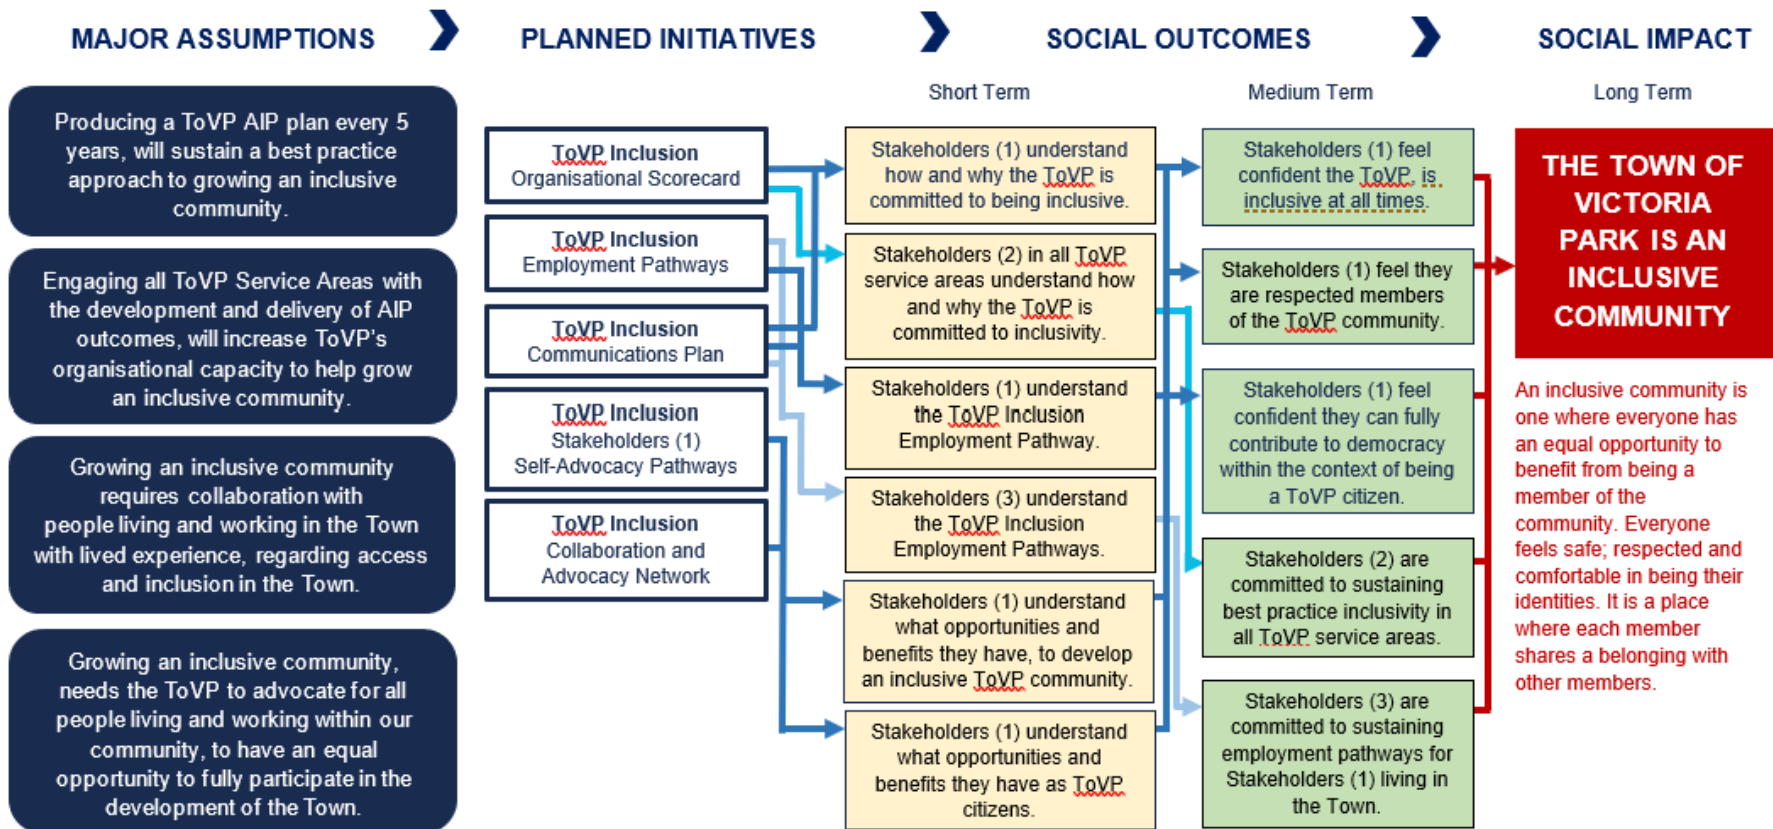

In developing the TOC, the Town has identified three key stakeholder groups central to its delivery:

1. People of diverse ages, abilities, cultural backgrounds, gender identities and sexual orientation that live and work in the Town of Victoria Park
2. Employees of the Town of Victoria Park
3. Business / organisations in the Town with 20+ employees

Theory of Change - Model

SITUATION and OPPORTUNITY

The Town of Victoria Park (ToVP) is required by the Disability Services Act (1993, amended 2004) to develop, implement and review its Access and Inclusion Plan (AIP) every 5 years. Nonetheless, we also believe our community will thrive in the 21st Century, when people of all ages; diverse abilities; cultural backgrounds; gender identities and sexual orientation, that live, work in and visit our community, can access and participate in all aspects of life within the Town of Victoria Park. Growing an inclusive community is a shared responsibility. Therefore, over the period 2022-27 we have the opportunity to enable the growth of an inclusive community, by building on our collective strengths.

ToVP Inclusion Stakeholder Groups: Stakeholders (1) People of diverse ages, abilities, cultural backgrounds, gender identities and sexual orientation that live and work in the Town.
Stakeholders (2) Employees of the ToVP. Stakeholders (3) Businesses/organisations in the Town employing 20+ employees.

Implementation, Monitoring and Evaluation

Implementation Plan

The Town will develop an annual implementation plan for each Goal to support delivery of the plan, aligned to the Town's annual budget.

The implementation plan will be updated each year, and as required, to meet the Town's available resources, while aiming to deliver on community and stakeholder expectations. Tasks may be added, removed or modified from the annual implementation plan to reflect items that have been completed, that need to be refined, budget changes and new priorities.

The plan will be delivered by officers, agents and contractors. The Town's Internal Diversity Working Group, and Access and Inclusion Advisory Group will be regularly engaged, as well as all of the Town's employees who share the responsibility for access and inclusion.

The Town will continue to foster partnership and collaborations with key stakeholders, including the broader community, in order to successfully deliver this plan.

Reporting

Progress on the plan will be reported to Council and the community on a regular basis. Reports will be shared via the Town's website, social media platforms, and as part of the Town's annual report. A progress report is provided to the Department of Communities – Disability Services annually.

Evaluation

The Town will evaluate this plan through an Organisational Inclusion Scorecard, aligned to the Town of Victoria Park Access and Inclusion Theory of Change. This, as along with other planning and evaluation tools, will be used to monitor the degree of social change arising from this plan, and will assist the Town's ongoing evaluation of its performance.
